Why Does the Art World Love Overlooked Artists?

December 12, 2016

The thirst for re-discoveries seems unquenchable. Currently on view is also a solo show of glass works by Israeli artist Nahum Tevet, curated by Duchamp expert Thierry De Duve for the Hunter College Gallery in New York. Next year Tevet will also show at Villa Stuck in Munich alongside his compatriot Efrat Natan, rediscovered after her retrospective at the Israel Museum in Jerusalem this summer.
